

MAHER KNOCKED OUT

Fitzsimmons an Easy Winner of the Big Fight.

ONLY ONE ROUND NECESSARY.

The Fight Lasted but One Minute and Thirty-Five Seconds—A Right-Hand Swing on Maher's Jaw and All Was Over—Fitzsimmons Declared the Champion of the World.

LANTRY, Tex., Feb. 22.—Peter Maher was knocked out by Bob Fitzsimmons yesterday in the first round after 1 minute and 35 seconds of actual fighting. Fitzsimmons played the same old game he has so often played before, leading on his opponent until he had him where he wanted him, and then landed a lightning right-hand swing on the jaw and it was over. It was the identical blow that knocked out Jim Hall in New Orleans.

For the first part of the round Maher had the better of it. He led often and forced the fighting. In his eagerness to get at Fitzsimmons he committed a papable foul during a clinch and was warned by Referee Siler that it repetition would cost him the fight. Maher fought well, but he was no match for his red-headed opponent, who proved himself one of the craftiest men that ever stepped into the ring.

Fitzsimmons is now, by Corbett's action in presenting the championship to Maher, the champion of the world and after the fight was over he declared through Julian his willingness to defend the championship against any and all comers.

The train arrived at about 3:30 central time, and over a rocky road winding about the precipitous cliffs along the Rio Grande the crowd wound its way to the sandy beach of the river. Forty-two Mexicans had carried the ring material to the river bank Thursday night after working hard all day upon a roadway down from the bluff. A narrow wooden footbridge had been put up across the swiftly flowing stream. The crowd stumbled over the stony path and waded ankle-deep in the sand.

The battleground was a sandy flat upon a big bend in the Rio Grande river on the Mexican side. It was just two miles from the village of Langtry. In the center of a canvas wall about 200 feet in diameter the ring was pitched. The board floor was covered with canvass, over which rosin was sprinkled. At one side was the frame compartment for the taking by the kinetoscope of the pictures of the fight as it proceeded. On the opposite side of the ring were two little tents for the principals. Fitzsimmons was the first to leave the train. There were following Fitzsimmons Martin Julian, Jack Everhart, William McCoy and Jack Stelzner, who were in his corner. Fitzsimmons took the first tent when he entered the canvas enclosure.

Maher arrived five minutes after Fitzsimmons. He was followed from the train by a crowd as well as his seconds, bearing his effects. Jim Hall, Buck Connelly, Peter Lawrie, Jack Quinn and Peter Burns. Little time was lost in getting ready.

George Siler, Julian and Hall examined the five ounce gloves. The gloves were of different makes and different colors, Fitzsimmons' being a light green and Maher's dark brown.

The referee called the men to the center of the ring and explained the articles of agreement and told them to get ready.

Fitzsimmons went to his corner and doffed the bathrobe. Julian and Everhart removed Fitzsimmons' remaining raiment, and the Australian stood forth in short thigh trunks of dark blue, with a belt showing the American colors. He had on black hose rolled down upon the top of his ring shoes.

When a similar office had been performed for Maher he showed up in black trunks, half way to the knees with a green belt. His hose and shoes were similar to those of Fitzsimmons.

When time was called the men met in the center of the ring. Fitz led with his left, Maher backed toward his corner. Fitz landed with his right and a clinch followed. Maher struck Fitz with his right hand while they were clinched and Referee Siler warned him that if he did so again he would give the fight to Fitz. After a breakaway Peter landed his left on Fitz's neck. Close in-fighting followed and Maher succeeded in landing his left on Fitz's upper lip, drawing blood. Fitz landed with left and right. Clinch followed, Maher landed with his left and another clinch followed. Fitz seemed a bit bothered and broke ground on Maher's heels. Maher followed him up and led with his left when Fitz side-stepped and swinging his right landed fully on the point of Maher's left chin. Maher measured his length on the floor, his head striking the canvas with great force. He vainly attempted to arise, but could not do more than raise his head. His seconds called on him to get up, but he failed to respond and sank back to the canvas.

As Maher fell to the floor Fitzsimmons stepped back and gazed upon his fallen foe for about three seconds, and then walked over to his corner and sat down. Julian, McCoy and Everhart crowded around him urging him to get up and fight.

"Get away from me, get away from me, I tell you," snarled Fitzsimmons, "it's all over, he's out," and by the time he had finished speaking Maher's championship was a thing of the past.

"There, didn't I tell you he was out?" remarked Fitzsimmons, in a peevish tone as he turned to pull his bath robe up around him to keep out of the cold drizzling rain that was falling. He sat for a few minutes in his corner looking across at Maher and then jumping briskly to his feet he walked rapidly across the ring and offered his gloved hand to Maher. Maher reached for it, but Fitzsimmons drew it back with a laugh, and getting Julian to untie the string at the wrist, walked back to Maher and offered his bare hand with the remark, "Well, Peter," Maher reached for the extended hand and shook it heartily without rising from his seat or raising his head to look at his conqueror.

Julian then called to Fitzsimmons and the victor walked over to the side of the ring nearest the gate where Julian stood. The crowd was beginning to stream out, but loud calls of "Gentlemen, gentlemen," from Julian, supplemented by a few whacks on the gong stopped them.

"Gentlemen," yelled Julian, "Mr. Fitzsimmons has now worked his way up to the top, and is now the champion of the world. He is now ready at any time and place to defend his title against any man in the world."

The declaration was greeted with loud yells of approval from the crowd, and Fitzsimmons bowed and grinned his usual capacious grin and then hurried away to dress himself.

Maher was unconscious 15 seconds, and it was fully a minute after he had been carried to his corner before he regained consciousness. He was not disposed to talk much. He is no talker at any time and would have had little to say if he had won. "He got me good and hard, and that was all there was to it," he said. "I heard the referee counting and heard the men in my corner calling me to rise, but I could not rise. When I knew anything at all I was in my corner and they were rubbing my face with water."

Fitzsimmons was very modest considering the brilliant victory he had won. "I could have put him out the first punch," he said, "but did not reach him hard enough. There never was a minute since the match was made that I have anticipated any other result than this. I was sure of him at all stages of the game. He was afraid the minute he put up his hands and I knew it. It was just like the first fight I had with him in New Orleans. I could have licked him long before had I tried and yet people are saying to this day he nearly had me out. I got in on him with my right and caught him squarely on the side of the jaw. I knew it was all over when I landed on him; it was dead easy from the start."

After Fitzsimmons and his party had come up to the railway station Ernest Reesor, the kinetoscope man, came to him with a proposition to fight Maher six rounds in front of his machine which would not work because of the dark weather. Fitzsimmons readily accepted the chance, but said that he must have $5,000 cash in advance and 50 per cent of the net receipts of the exhibition of the pictures. This was carried to the Maher party, and in the carrying of it it was distorted so that Fitzsimmons was made to say that he would bet $5,000 that he would stop Maher at any time within six rounds. Quinn, the backer of Maher, came rushing back to see Fitzsimmons about the proposition. The new champion denied having said anything of the sort, and a war of words resulted. Challenges for all sorts of sums were hurled back and forth, but by the time the train had pulled out of Langtry for El Paso nothing had been done.

The general opinion among the sporting men who witnessed the fight was that it was a most brilliant and unequalled victory for Fitzsimmons. Maher may not have been in as good condition as the Australian, but he could not have been outfought so quickly no matter what his condition had been. The general feeling was that Fitzsimmons is fully capable of giving Corbett or any other man on the earth a desperate hard fight at any time.

No weights were announced at the ringside, but Fitzsimmons weighed about 165 and Maher about 180. The crowd disappeared from Langtry almost as quickly as it had come, and it was not in the neighborhood more than two and a half hours all told. The west-bound regular train for El Paso was held until 6 o'clock, and when it went it carried with it the pugilists and nearly every person who had come down to see the fight. The one special train from Eagle Pass started on its homeward way at the same time, and the great fight was over and done.

NO PUNISHMENT FOR FIGHTING.

Mexican Laws Do Not Prohibit Prize Fighting—Only a Misdemeanor.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 22.—High officials of the department of foreign relations say regarding yesterday's prize fight, nothing can be done to punish the people concerned, as they merely violated what was practically only a police regulation, succeeding in making a dash into Mexico territory, avoiding Governor Ahumada and his rurales, who were over 50 miles away. Had Governor Ahumada caught them, the offense would have been only a misdemeanor and nothing more.

The case is not an extraditable one, as it comes under no clause of treaty. President Diaz has taken the ground all along that the Mexican law did not cover prize fighting and his endeavor was merely to prevent the fight, out of consideration for the United States.

The Mexican Herald says Mexicans want no rowdiness or Police Gazette heroes on the frontier, which is a difficult place always to maintain order.

Corbett Will Fight Fitzsimmons.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Corbett is filling an engagement at the Haymarket theater here. Last night he read from the stage a telegram he had sent to H. L. Beach, Associated Press correspondent at Langtry, Tex., as follows:

"Tell Fitzsimmons to come to Chicago as soon as he possibly can and I will make a match with him for any amount to fight him in any place on earth. I leave here tomorrow night and return the 1st of March. Tell Fitzsimmons to name the day he will be here, between March 1 and 6th, and we will have no trouble agreeing upon terms."

Corbett, after reading the telegram, placed $1,000 in the hands of Manager Davis of the Haymarket theater.

"There are only three places on earth where we can fight," said Corbett, "England, South Africa and Australia. I will go to any one of these places to meet this man. I want him to do business, that's all I want. I want to say right here as a young American of Irish descent, that I will meet any man on the face of the earth."

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Restoration of the Treasury Reserve Has Strengthened Public Confidence.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—R. G. Dnn & Company's weekly review of trade says: The restoration of the treasury reserve has been effected with remarkably little monetary disturbance, though stringency in the markets, greater elsewhere than here, and greater in commercial than in other loans, has somewhat retarded business. The rapid rise in the price of bonds strengthens public confidence. While money markets are growing easier as rapidly as could be expected after the withdrawal of over $70,000,000 from unemployed funds, the expected activity in commercial loans does not appear as offerings are small.

In no important branch of business is there yet apparent much disposition to expand. Purchases to cover several months' actual consumption were made within a few weeks on rising markets last fall; distribution to consumers has been slow and reductions in prices have not brought a renewal of such buying.

Prices of commodities as a whole are now at the lowest average ever known. Receipts of wheat continue heavy. 2,415,558 bushels for the week against 1,542,517 last year, and depress the price. February delivery to 72 3/4 cents, although what is nominally called a cash price is 7 1/4 cents higher. Receipts since last August have been so large as to indicate a much greater yield than has been estimated, but Atlantic exports are stimulated by lower prices, for the past week 1,810,304 bushels, flour included, against 1,383,607 last year.

Corn is 1 cent lower for cash, western receipts having been very large. Cotton again declined one-fourth of a cent with large realizing, reported sales aggregating a million bales for the week. Speculative estimates are persistently repeated, but receipts do not favor them, nor is actual consumption encouraging, as declining prices of goods show. Lower prices would not be hurtful to planters if preventing excessive planting.

In almost all manufactured products decline continues, though in some classes quotations are so irregular that the change cannot be accurately measured. Bessemer pig iron and grey forge are a shade lower at Pittsburgh, and structural beams and angles have been reduced to secure business, but new orders for products are comparatively small, and some furnaces in that region have been banked. Though business is less than was expected at Chicago, it is increasing for materials for car wheels and excellent in plates. The cast pipe business is active here, but little is doing in rails and the new bar classification is not favored. Prices are steady at Philadelphia, plates, though a little better, but other branches are dull.

Textile manufacturers fail as yet to meet the demand expected and prices are generally weak, open reductions averaging 2 per cent for cotton goods and since Jan. 1 about 9 per cent. Prices are now 10.2 per cent above the lowest point in 1895, but at the highest point had risen 23 per cent. Not much increase of buying answers to these reductions and of some goods accumulated stocks are quite large. Dress goods and blankets are in fair demand, but men's woolsens are both inactive and much demoralized by competition among makers so that actual transactions are in many cases 5 and 10 cents below open quotations.

Sales of wool for the week were 20 per cent smaller than last year, though for the month only 10 per cent, but 29 per cent smaller than in 1895. Prices do not decline, as the foreign market remains strong.

Failures for the week have been 250 in the United States, against 302 last year, and 66 in Canada, against 36 last year.

SMOOTH THIEF.

Has So Far Evaded the United States Post-office Inspectors.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 22.—For nearly three weeks United States postal inspectors have been at work trying to catch some rascally employee of the government postal department who has been rifling letters here with great boldness and so far has succeeded in throwing the detectives off his track. No less than 100 letters sent over the Norfolk and Western line from this city, Portsmouth, Chillicothe and Circleville have been reported missing in the last month.

The first complaints came from Circleville, and it was then supposed that they must be connected with the post-office there. Subsequently letters were missed all along the line.

Both Chief Inspector Salmon of Circleville and Inspector Holmes are working on the case. A strange thing about the case is that registered letters are rarely touched, and the thief is in some way enabled to detect the most ordinary letters containing money.

It is suggested that he is using the cathode rays to tell what the letters contain.

KILLED BY HIS SON.

The Young Man Has Been Regarded as Mentally Unsound.

NASHVILLE, Feb. 22.—E. R. Campbell, ex-clerk of the United States district court, was shot and killed by his son, Robert Campbell, in this city yesterday. Young Campbell has been regarded as mentally unsound for some time.

Mr. Campbell was walking on North Vine street, with his son, when the latter suddenly drew a revolver and shot his father just over the right ear, the bullet entering the brain. Mr. Campbell fell and expired instantly.

Young Campbell was immediately taken into custody and conveyed to the police station. He is 26 years old and had been a patient in a private sanitarium in Michigan and this state at different times. It is thought the killing was due to the belief on the part of young Campbell that his father intended to send him back to an asylum for treatment. The elder Campbell had been clerk of the United States district court for many years, and was well known.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Not Little Progress Made on the Indian Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The house in committee of the whole again refused to follow some of the Republican leaders in the matter of reducing the salaries of Indian inspectors from $3,000 to $2,500, the latter being the salary in the law for the current year. An appeal was made to the house in behalf of economy and retrenchment and was defeated by a vote of 67-78. In pursuance of their policy of retrenchment, however, Mr. Cannon raised a point of order against two provisions which changed existing law and they went out of the bill.

The progress yesterday was very slow, only two of the 61 pages of the Indian bill being disposed of.

Representative Colson (Rep., Ky.) introduced in the house a resolution to investigate the action of Secretary Carlisle in refusing to accept the bid of William Graves for $4,500,000 in bonds at 115.3391.

The house adjourned over Saturday except for a night session devoted to private pension bills.

The evening session of the house was devoted exclusively to the private pension calendar. Five bills were passed and nine were reported to the house by the committee of the whole with favorable recommendation. At 10:30 the house adjourned.

MOTHER'S CRIME.

Mrs. Kelso Will Probably Recover From Her Self-Inflicted Wound.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Ethel Kelso, who Thursday killed her two children and then attempted suicide, was reported at Bellevue hospital as greatly improved. Dr. Ely, who is attending her in the prison ward, said: "Mrs. Kelso will undoubtedly recover from her self-inflicted injuries. Besides cutting herself, she took a dose of hemlock poison."

"The poison has all been abstracted and the cut has been skillfully bound up. I have nothing to say as to her mental condition. I will leave that for the experts. In speaking to me she expressed herself in a very rational manner. At times she becomes very much excited and again talks very calmly about what she has done."

J. Radford Kelso, the husband of the woman, remains about the prison ward all the time. He is very much depressed by his misfortune.

A HUSB HANGING.

Execution of a Man Who Murdered a Little Girl.

BOSTON, Feb. 22.—August D. Gilbert was hanged in the Charles street jail yesterday for the murder of Alice Sterling, a child, on April 10, 1895. Gilbert was a man-of-all-work and his victim was the little daughter of a barber whose shop Gilbert frequented. He had petted the child until she became fond of him, and when, on the day of the murder, he took her walking nothing was thought of it.

She never returned to her home alive. Three days after her disappearance her body, with evidence of brutal treatment and with the head hacked with an ax, was found buried beneath the stable in which Gilbert had a room. An effort was made to save the murderer on the plea of insanity, but it was ineffective, the supreme court affirming the decree of the lower tribunal.

VENEZUELAN CONGRESS CONVENES.

For the Third Time in Its History a Quorum Was Present the First Day.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—A special to The World from Caracas, Venezuela, says: Congress has again convened. For the third time in its history there was a quorum on the first day. Jose Antonio Velutini was elected president of the senate, and Manuel Modesto Gallegos speaker of the chamber of deputies. Their addresses refer to this session as the most important in the republic's existence.

President Crespo will himself read his message to both the chambers in joint session within a week.

The English-built railroad between Guanta and Barcelona is stopped again.

TRANSVAAL HORROR

One Hundred and Twenty Lives Were Lost.

FOUR HUNDRED WERE HURT.

President Kruger Visits the Scene of Destruction All Locations Lined in the Common Sorrow That Has Overtaken the Town Half a Million Dollars Already Raised for Relief.

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 22.—The latest estimates place the number of deaths from the explosion of 20 tons of dynamite, on a switch at Vredendorp, on Wednesday evening, at 120, and about 400 persons were more or less seriously injured. A number of the wounded have succumbed to their injuries. The white victims were chiefly of the poorer class of boers. Whole families of white people were wiped out.

President Kruger has arrived here from Pretoria. In a speech he congratulated the inhabitants on the splendid manner in which they have sunk all race feuds in the common endeavor to relieve the suffering resulting from the disaster. He added that he earnestly trusted that the good feeling which has arisen from a common sorrow may have permanent results and lead to a much better feeling in the future between the Boers and the uitlanders.

The president's remarks have had a great effect upon the foreign population and it is believed that the reforms in the internal administration of the Transvaal which have so long been advocated by the uitlanders will shortly be inaugurated in a form which will give general satisfaction. President Kruger has been chosen president of the relief committee and he is directing the work of clearing the razed ground of Vredendorp and sheltering the thousands of people who have been rendered homeless by the terrible calamity.

All the congregated non available is being sent here and the work of covering huts for the homeless has already commenced.

The popular subscription raised a total of half of the distressed people already amounts to over $500,000. The Transvaal government has granted $25,000, the Netherlands Railway company $10,000 and the dynamite company $5,000 toward the relief fund.

The Netherlands Railway company's own regulations are shown to have been broken in several respects, notably in allowing the trucks of dynamite to be in proximity to the dynamite. Frequent appeals have been made to the company to prevent large quantities of dynamite from being detained on the sidings.

A red-hot bolt from the explosion fell into a magazine belonging to the dynamite company near town, where 100 tons of dynamite were stored. Luckily the bolt fell into a tank of water. The government now meditates ordering the removal of the magazine 10 miles distant.

ANTONIO MACEO DEAD AGAIN.

This Is According to a Report Sent Out by Spanish Authorities.

HAVANA, Feb. 22.—What is considered by many as strong corroboration of the report of the death of Antonio Maceo has been received. It seems that the squadron of Talavera was making a charge upon a group of insurgents when three of the women who are fighting in the insurgent ranks, and who have come to be designated as amazons, made their appearance.

The Spanish troops had dismounted and under shelter of a fence discharged their Manners into the insurgent ranks. A large number of the latter were seen to fall at the moment of the volley, the women carrying away many of the wounded. Nine of the wounded were thus conveyed to a neighboring house. One of these died and the body was secretly and mysteriously spirited away by the insurgents and their friends.

The people living in the neighborhood affirm that the body thus secretly taken away was that of the dashing mulatto insurgent general, Antonio Maceo.

The troops are also alleged to have captured a ruthless saddle horse, the saddle and bloodstained and bearing the initials "A. M."

CRISIS MORE ACUTE.

French Senate May Get Itself Abolished If This Continues.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The general opinion here is that the political crisis has been rendered more acute by the second vote of confidence passed by the chamber of deputies. It is expected that the senate will persist in its resistance to the deputies, and therefore further trouble is anticipated.

A few of the newspapers, however, think that the senate will yield under the fear that a revision of the constitution might result in the abolishment of that body.

The Conservative organs declare that the cabinet's victory brings the whole constitution into question.

The senate yesterday, by a vote of 184 to 80, adopted a motion protesting against what is characterized as a violation of its constitutional rights. The motion adds that the senate does not wish to suspend legislative existence and therefore will continue to examine any proposals submitted by the cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Secretary Olney received a cablegram from Ambassador Enstis announcing that Walter, the ex-consul to Madagascar was released from jail yesterday. It is expected that Walter will join his family in the United States.

The Ironston bill passed by the Ken- tucky Senate appropriates $100,000 for two schools of reform, one for boys and one for girls. Both institutions are badly needed. The Cincinnati politician who is con- tinually breaking into the papers and telling the people what he doesn't know about the weather will have to join Hake, the ground hog and the goose soon. Yesterday morning he said the cold snap would continue several days. He is getting lots of free advertising in the Cincinnati papers and is likely more interested in that than he is in the weather. Some of the Republican law makers at Frankfort continue to make monkeys of themselves. The Shelby Sentinel says: "The Hon. Cy. Brown, he of the mel- ligious voice and 'mag-gemificent' flow of language, was so enthused on meeting Miss Evelyn Walbeck, the designer of the 'log cabin' device which heads the Republican ticket, that he forthwith writ' him out a resolution appropriat- ing to her out of the public funds $1,000 and enrolling 'her name high on the scroll of fame—foremost among the great and good of the earth, and the one alto- gether lovely on the list of immortals." If the Hon. Cy. wants his name "high on the scroll of fame," he had better gather himself together and try to enact some of the needed legislation now pend- ing. Great Minds Will Differ. Public Ledger: "Mr. 'Bill' Nye is lying. Hood's pills for the liver and bowels, act promptly easily and effectively. Pat Minor, colored, of this city, was found near Quincy yesterday afternoon. He had bled considerably from an artery in one of his arms that had been cut, and at first it was thought he had been struck by a C. and O. train, as he was near the track. His clothing was soaking wet, however, showing he had been in the river. He says he started to cross the river on the ice, but fell between two cakes and received the cut on the arm. Minor has been regarded a little off mentally for some time, and the suppo- sition is that he attempted suicide by jumping in the river and afterwards by cutting the artery. His wounds are not serious. He was brought to his home in this city. Minor has been serving a six months sentence in the jail for exposing his person. The mob talk this week scared him up and he skipped out one day while at work. PERSONAL. Editor Davis has returned from Chi- cago. Mr. A. M. J. Cochran has returned from a trip to Frankfort. Miss Julia Taylor, of Frankfort, has returned home after a pleasant visit to her aunt, Mrs. E. Stanley Lee. Vancuburg Sun: "Miss Catherine Mullikin, who has been here for some time, is spending a few weeks at her home in Maysville." The Ideal Panacea. James L. Francis, Abbeyside, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an Ideal Panacea for Coughs, Colds and Lung Complaints. I have used it in my family for the last five years, and the exclusion of physician's fees and other preparations." Rev. John Rogers, K. K. K., writes: "I have been a member of the Methodist Church at Chicago for fifty years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial and safe as such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this for Cough, Cold, Sore Throat, and all other ailments. Dr. J. P. Here, of Vancuburg, writes: "I am a delegate to the St. Louis convention. Of course he would vote for Governor Bradley."

FREE TURNPIKES. Substance of the Bill Passed by the House—The Ballot For Sena- tor Friday. The Legislature took the twenty-eighth joint ballot for Senator Friday, with the following result: Hunter, 50; Blackburn, 50; Evans, 3; Carlisle, 5. Necessary to a choice 55. The free turnpike bill, which passed the House this week, is one of the most important measures which has come be- fore the Legislature. The bill provides that each county may vote on the ques- tion of free turnpikes, on petition of 15 per cent. of the voters. If turnpikes are purchased by the county the Fiscal Court shall do the purchasing and shall have the supervision and control of the road. If any person or company refuses to sell a turnpike road the court may condemn the road in the same manner that right- of-way of railroads may be condemned, except the court shall appoint three com- missioners, who shall fix the value of said road; two commissioners to be ap- pointed by the court and the other by the person or company owning such road. A bill to abolish the Board of Equal- ization was passed yesterday by a vote of 47 to 35. The House added several new bills to its calendar yesterday, only a few of which were especially important. One of these, by Mr. Gossom, of Warren, makes it a misdemeanor for a minor to induce the sale of liquor to him by mak- ing a false statement. Ratcliff, of Pike, introduced a bill au- thorizing the payment of a premium out of the State Treasury for the scalps of wolves, wild cats and foxes. Mr. Flippen, of Monroe, proposed to cut the salaries of Circuit Judges to $2,500 and the Judges of the Court of Appeals to $4,000. Several amendments to school laws came in along with the rest. In the Senate the bill requiring the state inspector to examine sales of leaf tobacco by warehousemen was passed. The Legislature adjourned till Monday, as today is a legal holiday—Washing- ton's birthday. Heartless Jokers. Flemingsburg Times-Democrat: "At Johnson Wednesday night, Boh Girvin came into Cole Bros.' store and called for some powder. Jerry Cole gave it to him in a half-pint bottle, and in a moment a quarrel sprung up between Girvin and James Bratton, and after a few hot words Jerry Cole interfered, whereupon Girvin said to him: 'I'll blow up your blasted store,' and suiting his actions to his words he threw the bottle of powder into the red-hot stove. A Maysville drum- mer, A. L. Hudson, sat in front of the stove, Ed. Andrews near him, and the other loafers close by, and such a scatter- ing you never saw. Maud S. nor George Kiesick's Unknown couldn't have held a candle to the speed made by Hudson and Andrews. Hudson stepped on his overcoat and fell but he did not stop running till he got to the middle of the railroad track, ready to start for Mays- ville. The bottle contained cinders."

Compliments Supt. Slattery.
 In their final report the grand jury at the present term of court say: "We have carefully examined the public buildings and find them in good repair and condition except that we recommend that the sewer pipes running from county jail be repaired so as to stop leakage, and also that tops be put on same, this being necessary to secure a good sanitary condition of the jail."
 "We were especially pleased with the condition and cleanliness of the County
 Infirmary and its present management
 by Superintendent Slattery."

The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Post says: "Representative J. B. Hiles, of Bracken County, is being urged to become a candidate for Congress next year in the Ninth district. Mr. Hiles is a young and energetic Democrat, and no doubt he would make it interest- ing for his opponents should he decide to enter the race. He said Thursday that he had not made up his mind to enter the race, although he had received numerous assurances of support." Says the Lexington Argonaut: "The successful experiments in photographing by means of cathode rays may necessitate a reform in dress. One will have to wear a coat of mail to hide a ragged undershirt or the use of safety pins for suspender buttons, all of which reminds us of the Irishman who took his wife to see a mind reader perform. When the artist covered his head with two blankets and read through their folds the contents of a newspaper, Pat turned to his wife and said, 'Bridget come go wit me, faith. This is no place for yez wid that thin calico dress of yez.'" MARSHAL WEBB, of Milldale, near Cov- ington, is very much interested in the developments concerning the applica- tion of the Roentgen "rays" to surgery. The Marshal has five bullets in various portions of his anatomy, and he has ex- perience discomfort and suffering for years. Photographer Poland, of Milldale, has secured a cathode outfit, and he will make an effort to locate some of the lead which the Marshal is involuntarily carry- ing. Marshal Webb says that he will submit to even the most critical surgical operation if he is assured that the sur- geons will be certain to find and remove any of the bullets. The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts the capacity for enjoyment. If his body is all out of order and run-down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right," he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his cap- acity for enjoyment be perfect. If this condition doesn't exist, something ought to be done. That means nine cases in ten the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the body. THE BRACKEN TRAGEDY.

Laughlin Visited by His Aged Father and by One of His Brothers Friday.

Bob Laughlin, the Bracken County murderer in jail here, was visited yesterday by his father and brother James, who spent some time in the cell room with him. They are, of course, overwhelmed with grief and sorrow at his awful crime and think he was surely temporarily deranged. He was always of a rather retiring disposition and they say he was always afraid to go anywhere in the dark. They mentioned these as some of his peculiarities.

Laughlin is much quieter now than he has been since his arrest. To Deputy Jailor Pompelly this morning he told another story about the burning of the house. He now says he set it on fire after he returned from his trip to Augusta, by upsetting the lamp.

He reiterates the statement that he wants to be tried in Bracken, and says he well knows what his sentence will be. But one legal execution has ever taken place in Bracken County. About forty years ago a negro was hanged just back of Augusta for the murder of a child.

Some twenty-five or thirty years ago, a negro who had killed a white man by the name of Browning, was taken from the jail at Brooksville and hung. Then in 1882 two men known as the Courts boys killed a man by the name of Smith in the Johnsville precinct. They were lodged in jail. A mob took them out, hanged them both to the same limb of a small persimmon tree on the dirt road that leads over to Berlin, about a quarter of a mile from Brooksville.

No one was ever prosecuted for either of these hangings, and to this day it is a mystery who the leaders were.

JAILER JOHNSON'S SUGGESTION.

He Has a Rather Novel Plan For Resisting Attacks on the Jail.

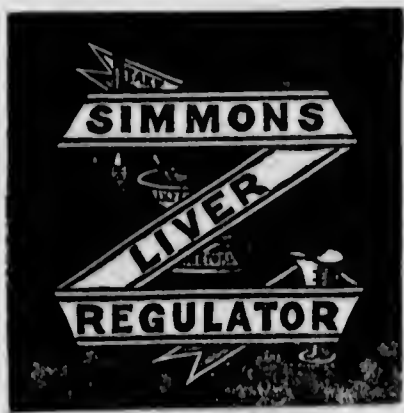

Jailer John Johnson suggests a rather novel plan for driving mobs away from the county prison, and many believe, as he does, that it would prove a very effective and at the same time harmless method of resisting mob attacks.

Briefly he would fight mobs with water instead of with powder and lead.

Everybody who knows anything about the Maysville water works, knows that the pressure is very great, so strong in fact that no hose can stand the pressure when the stream is turned on with full force.

Mr. Johnson suggests that a three or four inch plug be located in the jail corridor just inside the Z entrance door. He says it can be so placed that parties could manipulate the hose without being seen from the outside, and he firmly believes he can take two assistants, and with such an attachment, keep a mob of a thousand men away from the door, without resorting to firearms.

In addition to this he says such an arrangement could be used very handily in washing and cleaning out the jail. He will ask the county authorities to put in such an attachment.

MRS. ELVIRA GILL.

Death Claims One of the Good Women of the County—The Final Summons Came Friday at Noon.

Mrs. Elvira Gill, whose critical condition has been mentioned, died Friday at the hour of noon, at the home of her son, Mr. W. R. Gill, of Washington. She had reached the advanced age of eighty-seven years, and had been rather feeble for some time. She was taken with a cold a few days ago, and this hastened the end.

Deceased was a native of Mason and her long life was spent in the county. She was a Miss Curtis, and belonged to some of the county's old and most highly esteemed families. Her husband, W. R. Gill, Sr., died some twenty or twenty-five years ago. She leaves two sons, Mr. W. R. Gill, with whom she lived, and Mr. George R. Gill, the well known attorney.

The funeral will occur Sunday at 2 p. m. at the residence of Mr. W. R. Gill, and will be conducted by Rev. W. T. Spears.

Now he finds himself ostracized in the Senate. Only one or two of his fellow members have anything to do with him, and they not much. Mr. Tillman is sorry he did it. I have it on excellent authority that he has said, like the Irishman, if he were doing it over again he wouldn't do it at all."

See "In Old Madrid" This Afternoon and To-night.

The appearance of Mr. Francis Jones in his operatic comedy, "In Old Madrid," at the opera house this afternoon and to-night promises to be an event in local theatricals. Although a very young man, Mr. Jones has been before the public for nearly seventeen years, making his first appearance in "Rosebush" at the Pike Opera House in Cincinnati when scarcely four years of age. He has a magnetic stage presence and is the possessor of a rich baritone voice, which he uses with splendid effect.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

BAD TIMES?

Well, we should say so. Those clocks and watches are not only out of fix to be of any use. They've lost their time entirely. You'll lose your time, too, if you're not provided with good clocks and watches. We have a full supply of both, all accurate time-keepers and in perfect order. Better watches than ours are not manufactured. Whatever the price of any watch we carry, it's the best of its kind and a full value. Get a timepiece; get the best; get ours.
